St. Sophia, once more a Christian cathedral, will not be given over to the use of a mosque. The Russian government there and representing the Orthodox Greek church, but will become the seat of an archbishop and a cathedral.

WAR PREVENTS CAMPAIGNS

At least 50 big campaigns to raise money for famous causes have been prevented since last August by the war. Fifty-one of these were planned by the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian association, two of them were Salvation army, and the others were Christian association, men and women, in principal cities, and Christian missionary and other societies.

The Salvation Army campaigns are to build training schools in New York and Chicago, to be memorials of Gen. William Booth who founded the Army.

OPPOSITION TO BILLY SUNDAY IS STRONG IN NEW YORK

So serious has become the opposition in New York to "Billy Sunday's" proposed visit to that city next year, that the promoters of his campaign there are openly charging heresy. The opposition is not on Sunday methods but on Sunday theology.

Sentence Sermons by El Paso Ministers

THE world has a perfect right to expect more than ordinary thoughtfulness, earnestness and piety from those who profess to represent Jesus Christ.

Love for one another was the distinguishing badge for the early Christians, and it continues to be the surest sign of the reignancy of Christ over our hearts.

"Ye are the light of the world." As the moon and the stars reflect the light of the sun, so humanity must reflect the light of the Deity.—Rev. M. A. Souza, of Orchard Park Methodist church.

Paul, shortly before his martyrdom said, "I know whom I have believed." He knew Christ, not only as his saviour, but also as his friend and companion.

Christianity stands or falls in Christ; for it is not merely a religious system, but a religious system embodied in a person.—Rev. Chas. L. Overstreet, of the First Presbyterian church.

Hell is not a pit, filled with misery and woe, which God has caused to be dug in the pathway of men and women, and into which they may unwittingly fall; but it is rather the legitimate and logical end of the pathway of those who choose to live in rebellion against God.—Rev. J. H. Allen, of Austin Park Christian church.

Pray while you have time. There is a world of force in the old negro's assertion: "Scared praysers ain't no count."—Rev. Henry Easter of the Church of St. Clement.

The test of a man's religion is what he is every day, and not simply what he appears to be on Sunday.—Rev. O. J. Wade of Calvary-Houston Square Baptist church.

As the Easter time approaches every thoughtful person should think of the marvelous life of Jesus Christ. Then if we are true to our highest thought, we will enthroned Christ king in our hearts, and gladly give our lives in his service.—Rev. Herman G. Porter of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Brotherly kindness means more than just giving a meal to the down and out. It means a spirit of helpfulness so strong that it inspires the discouraged man to a new effort.—Rev. W. C. Baber of the Altura Presbyterian church.

A man's business pursuits should always be subservient to his religion and never his religion subservient to his business. The first and great object in life should be to protect our eternal welfare.

Don't stagger, let us have more faith and courage, for this only leads to contentment and permanent happiness.—Rev. J. W. Dunn, of the Church of Christ.

The abolition of slavery cost this country fifteen million dollars and from first to last about five hundred thousand lives. That was a tremendous cost in money; a fearful price in blood.

Let us all stand together, churches, schools, clubs, business enterprises and individuals to make El Paso a better city in every way, physically, commercially, politically, morally and religiously.—Rev. Kenneth Brown of East El Paso Presbyterian church.

What we do for others we do for ourselves.—Rev. Arthur C. Harris, of the English Lutheran church.

No mortal mind can comprehend the mystery and wonder of the cross of Christ. It is as broad as the scope of God's eternal purpose, as deep as his redeeming love, as high as the glory of his being.—Rev. John E. Abbott, of the Westminster Presbyterian church.

New York suburb is to be closely watched by New York ministers. These ministers are already at loggerheads over his visit, and it is probable that a convention may follow.

WASTELAND DEPOSED SULTAN

Ruler Blamed For the Death of 400,000 May Be Recalled.

Diplomacy, while his imperial manner remained unimpaired by misfortune. Not all those who have known Abdul Hamid have called him hard names. He was the "Sick man of Europe," it is true; but his surprising success in holding his empire together and preventing its disintegration. Lord Pentonfield said of him: "He is not a tyrant; he is not dissolute; he is not a bigot."

Abdul is now 75 years old. He ascended the throne in 1876 at the age of 23 and immediately abolished the constitution. For 23 years he was a despot. At the inception of his reign he had to fight the Persians. His armies put up a stubborn resistance against the Russians. At the expiration of the war he gained concessions considered little short of marvellous.

Blamed for Massacre of 400,000.
Abdul got his bad name abroad principally from the Macedonian and Armenian massacres which occurred under his regime. The victims of these atrocities numbered about 400,000. Here is a passage from Abdul's diary which shows how he regarded the non-Muslims of Turkey:

"The sole reason for our misfortune is that our empire is not a unit with a united religious element. This is because we have so many Christians within our boundaries. Such a situation is bound to make for disunion, just as it does elsewhere. Different religions in one country work out badly; an example of that is provided by the German empire. The stability of a nation is bound to be shattered if it is divided by religious differences. It is a matter of time before the bitter rivalries engendered by divergent religious beliefs will lead to civil war."

"Great Before Christians Came."
"Great before Christians came" when the Christian forces, closing their eyes to the hypocrisy of the liberation of Jerusalem, laid upon our land with fire and sword in order to depopulate it. If we are to find ourselves, if we are to regain our pristine power, if we are to see more to have a "golden age" we must keep in mind the springs of that old-time power.

Abdul would be a most curious revolution if England and Russia should put Abdul back on the throne, for he would be himself as being the power behind the throne, although the local foundry is using a part of it.

SAVE CHILDREN FROM "WASTE BASKETS"

New York, March 27.—"Paramount questions before the American public today are mothers' pensions and social insurance," says Miss Julia Lathrop, head of the United States children's bureau.

"The poorhouses where poor children are relegated are fostering centers of misery, ugliness, immorality and are social scrap. They are human waste baskets in which to throw man scrap. Mothers' pensions are a step toward the time when every child shall be given the protection and care it deserves."

Imports at the port Friday afternoon included eight cars of cottonseed cake, one car of beans and one car of bones. Recently a number of importations of scrap iron have been made, the scrap including carloads of wrecked railroad equipment. It is stated that the Villa authorities have given a concession to collect all of this scrap, which is worth a large sum of money.

Some Beauty Secrets Worth a Fortune to Every Woman

Valaska Suratt, America's Self-Made Beauty-Actress, Tells How Saving Beauty May Be Simply and Easily Attained.

By MISS VALESKA SURATT
This is the essence of all things. He will keep about a dozen whisks of various ranks. They numbered 14, more until the "harem revolt" at Salsalca, when almost half his household betrayed their allegiance to the government so strongly that they were allowed to leave.
